WHY WE EXIST

Education in Canada is a success story, but high overall quality masks deep inequality. The twin challenges of teacher supply and turnover compound historical injustice and systemic inequities to produce an education gap between First Nations and non-First Nations communities.

Teach For Canada is a non-profit organization that works with northern First Nations to recruit, prepare, and support committed teachers who will support student success in the North.

WHO WE LOOK FOR

Your Fit	Potential Challenges	Our Support
You have a strong, flexible teaching practice and are inclusive of all students.	You may work with students who are below grade level or teach outside of your subject specialization.	Our Teacher Development team provides two years of classroom support.
You are resilient and have established self-care strategies to overcome challenges.	You can sometimes feel isolated and lonely, especially when trying to explain life in the community to family and friends.	A community of like-minded peers and access to counselling services.
You have a strong community focus and work collaboratively with community members to incorporate local knowledge.	It can be difficult to integrate First Nation cultures and languages when they are new to you.	Our Summer Enrichment Program prepares you through workshops on Indigenous histories, cultures, and locally-responsive teaching approaches.

As an organization that works with First Nations, we value Indigenous perspectives in our program and encourage Indigenous candidates to apply.
