OGIMAA KWE CLAIRE SAULT

It's been a super busy month and back into the swing of developments after the summer season came to an end.

GTA - Establishing relationships with companies in the GTA who understand treaty history and are willing to take the actions steps toward reconciliation is so important for us. These efforts not only provide education for the non-Indigenous, but it can also sometimes provide economic opportunities for MCFN. I participated in a fundraising effort by a company called Wesco who raise funds for the urban Indigenous organizations.

NBC Universal who is a media company is another important connection for us long term. They opened a legacy space that helps provide their staff with a better understanding of Canadas history. We also want companies like this in our corner when we need them.

Massey College - The Kings Anishinaabek Sacred Place Conference, Mohawk Chapel. This was an international conference gathering Indigenous and non-Indigenous delegations from the Mississauga Nation, Haudenosaunee Confederacy, Canada, Aotearoa (New Zealand), and Australia, to discuss how the concept of "Chapels Royal" are being used to convene people together. Chapels Royal first appeared in medieval England in the personal household of the reigning Sovereign, and in Canada have become rooted in relationships. This conference was focused on identifying and honouring the relationships that already exist; what is the future of such spaces; how can they better realize their relationships with Indigenous Peoples; what structures could be proposed to coordinate communications and activities between them. This was a very special event that included representatives from all three chapels Chapel of the Huron, Chapel of the Mohawks and MCFN's chapel at Massey to participate.

Jay Care Baseball – The Mississauga Nations had an annual youth tournament that turned out to be a fun day for everyone. Thanks to Councillor Veronica for taking on this endeavor on behalf of our Nation. Negotiations meeting with Canada has been ongoing.

ing. Next meeting scheduled for October 31st. Queens Park Tour – Queens Park will be going through a complete renovation and looked to our Council for feedback and perspective regarding how to incorporate an Indigenous presence into the renovation and completed project.

Ted Rogers Business School – University of York invited me to a meeting so they could gain some greater perspective on the content of what they teach and what is important to our Nation. Understanding Treaty history is foundational to all of our pursuits and economic reconciliation. I'll be speaking at their upcoming conference in November. It's critically important that students understand our presence in the GTA.

I sent out letters to all the Universities in our territory. Especially around their land acknowledge and our desire to have a stronger MCFN presence within the institution. To date, 3 of the Presidents responded.

We (Councillor Veronica and I) had a very productive meeting with the University of Toronto and McMaster. Greater to come from these important meetings.

Ports Toronto – An Indigenous Artist Mural was unveiled in the Ports of Toronto. The artist who was commissioned was Que Rock. He did a fabulous job and story for the piece that will gain some international attention. MCFN's relationship with Port of Toronto also includes Billy Bishop Airport.

TRC Week – Truth & Reconciliation week was busy for most of the Council and was packed with speaking engagements and educational opportunities for the public.

Reframing Jurisdiction – I participated and gave the opening remarks for Reframing Inherent Jurisdiction: A Critical Dialogue that was hosted on September 25, 2004, An exclusive discussion on the intricate interplay between inherent jurisdiction and Canada's political, economic, and legal landscapes.

Brampton TRC – This event was a great opportunity to educate the public in Brampton by panel discussion on Canada's history and the importance of Economic Reconciliation.

MP Brock – We (Councillor Larry and I) had a productive meeting with MP Brock to provide him some perspective about the Treaties. More importantly, to seek his support in getting our claims settled.

University of Toronto Presidential Search – We were asked to participate and provide feedback on the next incoming President who will be taking over at the U of T. I felt it was important to give our feedback, more importantly to exercise our influence in their selection process.

There is so much more than the above-mentioned activities going on and my hope is that everywhere we participate with produce some long term fruitful relationships for our Nation.

We look forward to seeing everyone at the next community meeting on Saturday, November 9th.

Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation Statement of Law-Making Jurisdiction

The Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation (MCFN) asserts its inherent right to self-governance (Inaaknigewin) and autonomy over its community and territory. This document outlines the principles and processes for MCFN law-making, asserting that this jurisdiction has always belonged to the MCFN people and continues to guide their governance.

Jurisdiction:

MCFN holds the right to create laws (Naaknigwenan) for the protection and exercise of its rights across its territory.

- This includes the authority to create rules, regulations, and procedures necessary for implementing these laws.

Exercise of Jurisdiction:

MCFN's elected Council (Chief and councillors) is responsible for law-making and cannot delegate this authority except as permitted by this Statement.

- The Council will set rules for law approval, enactment, and publication. This Statement takes precedence over conflicting rules or policies.

Law-Making Principles and Process:

Definitions are provided for terms such as "community," "Council," and "Eligible Voter."

- Laws must align with the MCFN Constitution, respect Aboriginal and Treaty rights, and incorporate Anishinaabemowin where appropriate.

Application:

- This Statement governs all law-making by MCFN, including actions by Council and departments.

- Existing laws will be reviewed and updated within 5 years of this Statement's adoption.

Principles and Process:

- An Inaaknigewin Legislative Branch will draft and maintain records of laws.

- Draft laws will be presented at public meetings for MCFN Members' feedback. A vote may be required based on the nature of the law.

- Laws come into effect 15 days after enactment, and will be publicly posted. Eligible voters may appeal laws through established processes.

Amendment and Appeals:

- Technical amendments may be made without re-presenting laws to Members. Substantive amendments require Council approval and, if necessary, a Members' vote.

- Appeals can be filed by Eligible Voters who participated in a vote, following the designated appeal procedures.

This document, approved by Chief and Council, provides the framework for MCFN's law-making, ensuring it aligns with community values and governance principles.

Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation Re: 407 ETR's Toll Exemption Policy

Mississauga, Ontario – October 1, 2024 – The Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation (MCFN) would like to address recent inquiries regarding toll exemptions on Highway 407 ETR, operated by 407 ETR Concession Company Ltd. Since the company commenced operations in May 1999, MCFN members have sought clarity on their status regarding toll exemptions.

In a recent email, 407 ETR reiterated, “We do not offer toll exemptions to Indigenous Peoples and have not done so in the past.”

The Province of Ontario operated Highway 407 prior to 1999 with the same agreement as the 407 ETR.

Currently the only exemption available to MCFN members is for the HST tax. To access this exemption, members must submit their status card number when receiving a bill, after which the HST charge will be removed.

Former Chief of Alderville First Nation had been pursuing total exemption for Mississauga Nations including Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation – the most Westerly end of the Highway 407 ETR through to Highway 315 in the east (Durham Region), which is home to Mississaugas of Scugog. Former Chief Jim-Bob Marsden has also been working with Williams Treaty Chiefs and Anishinabek Nation on this file.

MCFN is setting up a meeting with the former Chief Marsden to put this on the political radar with all mentioned political leaders on this.

Our community remains committed to advocating for fair and equitable treatment as Treaty Holders within each jurisdiction spanned the 407 ETR.

MCFN will update members on the progress of these discussions.

Councillor Leslie Maracle Community Update

Aanii Community,

This past month has been spent on gathering knowledge and information on the Long-Term Reform. Some meetings have been postponed until October for an informed decision to be made by First Nations.

I assisted in a well-attended End of Summer Youth Event hosted by Community Support and Social and Health. Great event team.

I attended a meeting at Ron Joyce (Hamilton Health Sciences) to participate in a Community Engagement Meeting where the Hamilton Health Sciences are presenting a draft on Indigenous Health Plans Recommendations on how to provide culturally safe care to indigenous patients. By sharing our stories and experiences within the Hamilton Health Sciences services we are hoping to build on this draft. It is essential for MCFN to have a voice on this committee.

I attended the ALFDC Board meeting in Orillia. The Board of Directors were chosen and remain status quo. Chair is Steve Williams, Co-chair is Cathie Jamieson, Treasurer is Nancy Martin.

I have also been participating in meetings with Brant Community Health Care System. They are preparing a culturally safe space within the Brantford General Hospital amongst other things. MCFN sponsored a golf team to support WHGH. Mark Sault, Bob Sault, Victor King Jr and I had a great day of golf. We even managed to win the most honest team prize. Miigwetch gentleman for

Went to a BBQ and Open House for Biindigen Wellness Centre in Hamilton. The City of Hamilton has purchased an old school for this program. We are hoping to build relationships with the City of Hamilton, so this is a great opportunity.

Miigwetch to everyone who participated in organizing the Caring Together Events. The activities were great for the families and the meals were delicious.

Peacekeepers are meeting again. We have chosen a name and will be having a logo contest soon. Nadine has been a busy bee arranging trainings and preparing reports to keep this program rolling. Hopefully things will run smoothly now and we will have the program operating at the beginning of the new year. I will be attending the Truth and Reconciliation events at WHGH and NGH, as well as the Mush hole. I hope to see everyone at the Orange Shirt Day event that will be held on September 30th and the outside movie night on September 28th.

Coming in October will be Mental Health First Aid Training sponsored by Haldimand Norfolk/ MCFN Victim Services.

Please reach out if you have any questions or concerns. Text or call 519-717-7205, email Lesliem@mncfn.ca.

Lifelong Learning Office Updates for October 2024:

Aanii and welcome back, we hope all students are settled in and have had a great start to the 2024-2025 academic school year! October can be an odd month for weather, cool in the mornings and warm in the afternoons. Keep this in mind when dressing your children and yourself.

Our department has had several phone issues, we know that it can be quite the inconvenience. We have been actively working on this and hope to have it resolved as soon as possible. We apologize and thank-you for bringing it to our attention. Please note that we are always available via email, they can be found below.

We have had a few setbacks with busses but that is normal, especially when dealing with a new bus company and new drivers. We hope to have all these disruptions straightened out and ensure no one is being missed. If at any time a student wishes to not want to ride the bus any longer, please advise us immediately so we can inform the bus company.

Miigwech to the Public Works and Lands and Membership staff who joined us in the festivities for our contribution to this year's Caring Together Week. Our Beach Day was a great success!

Important Dates to Remember:

- October 14th – All Department of Lifelong Learning buildings closed for Thanksgiving

We wish you all a great October and beyond, Miigwech.

From the Post-Secondary Desk:

At first glance, post-secondary programs can be slightly intimidating. To break it down, post-secondary education can be divided into three streams: University, College, and Apprenticeship programs at colleges. Each stream has its advantages, but the trick is discovering which one suits you best and aligns with your career goals.

First off, do you know exactly what you want to pursue in life? Or do you just have an idea? You should do some research into jobs you could potentially get in your desired field more intensely. Take a look at different job descriptions, could you see yourself doing that for 7-8 hours a day? You can also try some online aptitude tests to see what they tell you. They might even suggest a career you hadn't known existed. The opportunities are endless!

Now to decide which is a better fit for you, College or University? University students tend to graduate with great research skills. Careers in research and data analytics are on the rise and if it interests you, it might be something to consider. The skills gained from academia are transferable and often best suit office jobs and some professions like lawyers and teachers require a degree as a minimum qualification with the potential to grow and obtain further education.

Something else to consider is deciding whether or not you'd thrive in a large campus and classroom environment. Universities typically have large numbers of students making it busy and highly populated.

Now College tends to offer a more hands on approach. Let's discuss the Apprentice part first, due to the skilled tradespeople aging out of the workforce, a lot of money is now available in post-secondary for apprenticeships and pre-apprenticeships. These programs could be offered tuition free, may have a stipend while you are learning, or a co-op placement. Different colleges in a region typically have different offerings, so it pays to look at several. Some programs will even help you get set up into an Apprenticeship while others will require you to get into an apprenticeship before you start. It never hurts to read up on what a union considers its best candidate on their website.

Other College programs can set you up for various careers in Social Work, Nursing, and other technical qualifications. You will learn how to get familiar with lab equipment, how to do reports specific to your specialty, or become a qualified parole officer or pastry chef. There are so many options!

A new trend in education is the College-to-University pathway. When you go to a public school, you can often transfer that two-year diploma into a University degree. Some recommend starting with a college program before university, as it will get you used to the post-secondary environment while also giving you the building blocks to advance in a particular area. This would mean using your allowable funding for both college and university, so it is worth planning carefully to ensure you want to use your funding options that way.

Either way, the Post-Secondary resource page has some tools you can use. A lot of colleges and universities have some online free tests you can take to see where your aptitude lies. Your future is what you make of it and I wish you luck and happiness in the making.

Congratulations to the “Class of 2024” baamaapii on your journey into kindergarten. Eight graduates were sent off in style with a song written by Nikki Shawana and certificate presentation. We shared food and memories and had a party designed by the preschoolers themselves.

The Children chose to have a Teddy Bear Picnic where their families and stuffed animals attended with snacks and play. It was a whimsical event to celebrate the end of August. Everyone pulled up blankets or a patch of grass to join in the fun.

Jacy Hill (Child Care Assistant at MMCC) is the winner of a gift certificate for exemplifying our Grandfather Teaching of the month this month. Jacy demonstrated Humility, as unasked, she helped tidy up for others after our Teddy Bear picnic (while on her lunch break!). Way to go Jacy and Miigwech from all the staff at MMCC for your contributions!

Our shade sail project is complete! The shade sails have been installed and we were able to stay cool while out on the playground.

Food Service Update

September marked the first hot lunch service for our Grade 1-8 students in the cafeteria! The excitement was evident as everyone came together to enjoy a delicious meal of spaghetti and moose meatballs, served family-style. The students and staff embraced the experience, sharing stories and laughter over their nutritious meal, which combined familiar comfort food with a cultural twist. It was a wonderful way to kick off this new chapter of our school lunch program, bringing the community closer one meal at a time.

Caring Together Week 2024

Caring Together

Chii Miigwech to everyone who attended Caring Together hosted by the Department of Lifelong Learning. It was wonderful seeing the children and families engaging with each other and exploring all the stations. Miigwech to all the staff who helped make this possible for our community!
